

JAPAN MINISTER HAYASHI'S REPLY TO MR. PULITZER

Mikado's Nation Has Confidence in America's Policy of Peace.

FALSE CLAMOR RAISED.

President in Authorized Statement Formally Disclaims Warlike Move.

This cablegram was sent by Mr. Joseph Pulitzer, proprietor of the New York World and St. Louis Post-Democrat, on Sunday to Viscount Hayashi, Minister for Foreign Affairs of Japan.

BAIN HARBOUR, Me., July 14, 1907.

"Minister Foreign Affairs, Tokyo, ar-

"Viscount Hayashi, Minister Foreign Affairs, Tokyo, Japan:

"In the interest of peace, humanity and good will between two great friendly nations I venture to request that you submit to His Majesty the Mikado the following facts:

"In urging a warlike demonstration of the fleet of the United States in the Pacific Ocean a New York newspaper declared that it voices the sentiments of the entire American people.

"This declaration is absolutely false. Ignorance in one nation of the sentiments and motives of another nation and gross misrepresentation, pining upon ignorance foster and developing national excitement, and this is often the cause of war."

"Neither the newspaper that made this declaration nor the few others that join with it in this clamor express the opinion of the American people. On the contrary, this Nation desires peace and is overwhelmedly hostile to any policy likely to imperil peace, and the universal opinion, as reflected in the intelligent and leading press of the country, is opposed to any demonstration that may wantonly disturb or menace the friendly relations now existing between Japan and the United States.

"Out of over twenty-two hundred daily newspapers in the United States scarcely a dozen favor this demonstration; out of more than twenty daily papers in New York City only two favor it. Even these profess to do so in the interest of peace, knowing that the overwhelming opinion of the nation is against war or anything that looks like war."

"Twelve years ago there was concerning Venezuela an infinitely greater popular passion between England and the United States, and war seemed imminent. At that time I made an appeal for words of peace to the sovereign authority of Great Britain, and the present King of England responded in words addressed to the under-signed, which had the greatest and most immediate effect in soothing popular sensibilities, calming the passion of the hour and assuring the maintenance of peace.

"One word from His Majesty himself, correcting the erroneous impressions of his own people, expressing the friendly feeling of His nation and appreciating the friendly sentiment of this country, would immensely aid those who are ardently engaged in fighting ignorance, prejudice and popular passion for the sake of peace.

(Signed) JOSEPH PULITZER.

Proprietor New York World and St. Louis Post-Democrat."

Reply from the Japanese Foreign Minister.

This cablegram from Viscount Hayashi, the Japanese Minister for Foreign Affairs, addressed to Mr. Joseph Pulitzer, was received yesterday.

"Tokio, Japan, July 16, 1907.

"Mr. Pulitzer, Proprietor World New York:

"While appreciating friendly sentiments expressed in your telegram, I find it impossible, consistent with the usage of this country, to ask for the despatch of imperial message as desired.

"I assure you, however, that no erroneous impression to which you refer has been entertained by Japanese people, and still less by Japanese Government.

"It is here fully and universally believed that reported cruise of United States fleet to the Pacific, if contemplated at all, implies no indication of disrupting the future in the relations between Japan and the United States.

"Your cable has unquestioned confidence in public opinion of American Government, and an sensational report appearing in a small section of the press seems to us a mere reflection in the minds of the public. We are thoroughly convinced of the peaceful character of the situation.

(Signed) "HAYASHI."

The President's Position Authoritatively Stated.

The World's special staff correspondent at Olympia, Wash., in the summer of 1906, informed the author, was yesterday authorized to make an investigation—authoritative statement as to the true view of the president himself.

"The president has no order given by the President to the Navy Department.

"While manoeuvres for the battleships have been under discussion some time, the matter had had nothing whatever to do with the Japanese question.

"The scheme is simply to find out in what particulars, if any, our battleships may be defective.

"The author has not considered the Japanese mission as being at all serious, and has not, for that reason, issued any warning of the mobilization of the fleet in the Pacific.

"The present plan of the Navy Department is to have the battle-ships leave for a cruise early in the fall. They may go to the Pacific. The destination has not yet been determined.

"A wireless message has been under way, we were started before the discussion of the Japanese situation arose.

"Absolutely no significance can be attached to anything in this direction that has been communicated.

SANTIAGO RE-ENACTED.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—The thirteenth biennial convention of the Army and Navy Union was opened here yesterday. In the afternoon the members saw a spectacular representation of the battle of Santiago, the Spanish war veterans and the American right infantry, at a pleasure resort near this city.
